REGIONAL HOMELESS SERVICES RACIAL EQUITY AND SYSTEMS AUDIT

I. METROPOLITAN WASHINGTON COUNCIL OF GOVERNMENTS

The Metropolitan Washington Council of Governments (“COG”) is the regional organization of the Washington area's 24 major local governments and their governing officials, plus area members of the Maryland and Virginia legislatures and the U.S. Senate and House of Representatives.

COG provides a focus for action on issues of regional concern such as comprehensive transportation planning, air and water quality management, environmental monitoring, tracking economic development and population growth and their effects on the region, coordinating public safety programs, collaborating to end the experience of homelessness and promoting child welfare and housing affordability for the region. COG is supported by financial contributions from its participating local governments, federal and state government grants and contracts, and through grants and contracts from foundations and the private sector.

COG has been a regional and national leader in regional coordination in homeless services. The region began coordinating to conduct an annual census of people experiencing homelessness in 2001, prior to the requirement by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development to do so. This platform has allowed the nine participating Continuums of Care to collaborate across jurisdictions to ensure that the experience of homelessness in metropolitan Washington is brief, rare, and non-recurring.

II. PROJECT OVERVIEW AND BACKGROUND

Demographic data from the results of the regional 2020 annual Point-in-Time count demonstrates the ongoing impacts of structural racism in the metropolitan Washington region. These data show a disproportionate representation of Black or African American residents experiencing homelessness. Regionally, 25 percent of the region's residents are Black or African American. Single adults experiencing homelessness on the night of the count in January 2020 were 73 percent Black, and 86 percent of adults in homeless families were Black.

The members of COG's Homeless Services Committee have been tracking and analyzing their demographic data and are seeking recommendations to align systems of care across jurisdictions to prevent and end homelessness with a primary focus on racial equity. The proposed racial equity systems analysis should provide guidance on ensuring that existing systems of care do not exacerbate existing racial inequities and instead, helps mitigate and reduce the disproportionate representation shown of people of color in the metropolitan Washington region's homeless services systems. The goal for this collaborative analysis is a roadmap for concrete actions that can be taken locally, as well as jointly as a region.

The participating jurisdictions include the District of Columbia, and in Maryland, Prince George's County, Montgomery County, and Frederick City, and in Virginia, the City of Alexandria, Arlington County, Fairfax County, Loudoun County and Prince William County. Racial disparities differ across the region, however; for example, in the city of Frederick, whites experience homelessness at higher rates than in surrounding jurisdictions, and in Prince George's County, the population is majority Black or African American, and this context requires a nuanced analysis to identify racial inequities within the homeless services response.

The U.S Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) encourages local governments to collaborate regionally. The participating jurisdictions have determined that, given the metropolitan Washington region's shared housing markets, transportation system, and job centers, a multi-jurisdictional analysis with coordinated goals and strategies centered on racial equity will strengthen local actions within each Continuum of Care ("CoC") and potentially deepen the impact of local strategic plans to prevent and end homelessness.

III. SCOPE OF WORK

COG and its Homeless Services Committee members are seeking a contractor with demonstrated knowledge of racial equity and experience with homeless services data analysis, meeting facilitation, working with diverse stakeholders, including consumers and local governments, and coordinating with partners across multiple jurisdictions to draft a regional set of recommendations to center racial equity in our shared efforts to end the experience of homelessness. The process and outcome will be geared towards producing a holistic and integrated system, as opposed to simply making recommendations for equity 'add-ons.'

The analysis should ensure that it is responsive to the needs of those who are at the highest risk for prolonged or multiple episodes of homelessness, so that the resulting system has the capacity to respond effectively to the needs of all.

The final deliverable will be a set of concrete recommendations for actions that each CoC can take at a local level and collectively as a region to create a more racially equitable approach to ending the experience of homelessness.

These recommendations should identify how existing CoC policy and practice may contribute to outcomes that compound disparities seen within the homeless services system in the metropolitan Washington region and provide concrete actions to remedy them.

Identifying opportunities for upstream interventions, as an additional component for this analysis, will strengthen the consultants' final recommendations and provide opportunities for greater cross-jurisdictional and cross-agency collaboration.

The selected contractor should have the skills and experience to complete the following tasks:

A. Task 1: Project Plan and Management

1. In collaboration with COG staff and members of the Homeless Services Committee, the contractor shall create a project timeline and plan that includes an implementation plan for conducting consumer and stakeholder engagement in the region and presentation to the relevant COG committees, a joint meeting of Continuum of Care representatives from each jurisdiction and other interested members of the public.

The contractor should provide any presentation materials to the Homeless Services Committee members two (2) weeks in advance of any public or joint meetings.

The project timeline should also specify at the outset the need for any administrative data in order to provide information in a timely manner to the contractor.

2. The contractor shall submit a timeline for milestones and deliverables within 10 business days of contract award. COG will submit any feedback on the proposed timeline to the contractor within 10 business days or less.

3. The contractor will be responsible for coordinating with COG and Committee members to ensure that completion of products and deliverables remains on schedule and aiding local jurisdictions and COG as needed to complete tasks successfully. A schedule for regular updates to the Committee members should be included in the project timeline.

B. Task 2: Data Collection and Analysis

1. The contractor shall work with representatives of each of the nine (9) participating Continua of Care (CoCs) to review all components of the participating CoCs' homeless service systems, inclusive of all staff, programs, and service delivery points.
2. The contractor should use quantitative, as well as qualitative, sources of information to inform the final set of regional recommendations. This may include focus group meetings or interviews with customers and stakeholders from multiple sectors, including government, non-profit, community-based organizations, private business, advocacy, legal, educational or research institutions, and other groups which work with people experiencing a housing crisis.
3. The initial analysis shall be incorporated into a presentation to share with Homeless Services Committee members and stakeholders. Draft presentations shall be available two (2) weeks in advance of any stakeholder or CoC meetings to allow committee members and participants an opportunity to review the information in advance.

C. Task 3: Development and Facilitation of a Robust Customer and Stakeholder Engagement Process

1. Together with COG and the members of the Homeless Services Committee, the contractor will assist with implementing a meaningful customer-centered engagement process, to include people with lived experience and service providers that can be tailored for different geographies and audiences. Respondents should describe their approach in detail and estimated number of engagements per CoC that may be necessary, acknowledging the limitations and constraints created by the COVID-19 pandemic for in-person meetings and interviews.
2. The contractor will coordinate meetings and engagements with assistance from CoC staff as well as any logistics for any community meetings with the selected consultant.
3. Feedback from stakeholder engagements and other public meetings shall be documented and integrated into the final set of local and regional recommendations. While CoC staff will assist in facilitating meetings, ensuring the confidentiality of participant feedback will be the responsibility of the selected contractor.
4. The contractor shall ensure that the local engagement process is equally responsive to the unique challenges of dense, urban communities as well as the smaller, less densely populated areas of the participating jurisdictions' areas.

D. Task 4: Incorporate Feedback and Draft Regional Recommended Actions

1. The contractor shall compile comments delivered from in-person meetings, stakeholder engagements, and/or submitted online to inform the draft regional document's recommendations and action plan.

2. The draft recommendations should include actions that can be taken in each of the participating nine (9) CoCs as well as collectively as a region.

The draft recommendations should note the intersectionality of homelessness and highlight where there are patterns in involvement with other systems of care that may have contributed to a person's experience of homelessness. Rather than provide detailed potential upstream interventions, contractors should identify recurring themes (across agencies and sectors) for future consideration. These recommendations will be used to support cross-sector, cross-agency, and cross-jurisdictional solutions to prevent and end the experience of homelessness.

3. Building upon the local engagement process, and prior to submitting a final set of recommended actions, the contractor will submit a draft document to the COG's Homeless Services Committee members and stakeholders for a preview.
4. The regional recommendations shall be submitted to COG in a digital format along with digitized supporting research materials including any statistical analysis, meeting notes and minutes, and interview transcripts. Final recommendations should be edited and presented in a reader-friendly format accessible to a wide audience of decision-makers, community members, consumers, and other stakeholders.
