DRAFT AGENDA

10:00 A.M. 1. WELCOME, MEETING SUMMARY
Koran Saines, CEEPC Chair

10:05 A.M. 2. STATE OF GLOBAL WARMING
Dr. James L. Kinter III, Director of the Center for Ocean-Land-Atmosphere Studies (COLA), George Mason University

Dr. Kinter will present on the current state of global warming. He'll provide an overview of global and metropolitan Washington climate change impacts from the last 5 years and will share the outlook on the remaining carbon budget consistent with limiting global warming to 1.5°C; for 2°C.

Action Item: Receive briefing.

10:40 A.M. 3. REGIONAL TRENDS TOWARD CLIMATE GOALS
Maia Davis, COG Environmental Programs

Metropolitan Washington greenhouse gas emissions have reduced at least 24% between 2005 and 2020. CEEPC will be briefed on the regional trends and progress on the goals of the Metropolitan Washington Climate and Energy Action Plan. This includes greenhouse gas emissions trends from 2005 through 2020 and progress on key performance indicators such as green building, renewable energy, vehicle miles traveled and more.

Action Item: Receive briefing.

11:10 A.M. 4. CEEPC YEAR IN REVIEW AND 2023 PRIORITIES

Koran Saines, 2022 CEEPC Chair

Takis Karantonis, 2023 CEEPC Chair

Patrick Wojahn, 2022 and 2023 CEEPC Vice Chair

As CEEPC reflects on progress and its work over the last year, committee members are invited to consider the challenges ahead and discuss priorities for CEEPC in 2023 to accelerate progress toward our 2030 climate goals. Questions for discussion include:

- How can CEEPC support members in implementing strategies of the 2030 Climate and Energy Action Plan?
- What topics should CEEPC address at meetings in 2023?
- Thoughts on in-person/hybrid v. virtual meetings? Staff recommend 2 in-person meetings.

Action Item: Discuss priorities.

11:35 A.M. 5. MEMBER AND STAFF UPDATES

An opportunity will be provided for any important items that CEEPC members would like to communicate to the group. Written staff updates will be provided and members are welcome to take this opportunity to ask staff questions.

Action Item: Share updates.
