

The Greater Washington DC Region Safe Routes to School Network is convening the first

Safe Routes to School Regional Meeting
October 29, 2013
9a.m.-2p.m.

hosted/located by/at MWCOG/TPB
Register online (link) to attend

Plan to attend the first Safe Routes to School Regional Meeting to share ideas and learn the different ways to implement Safe Routes to School activities in your community. Safe Routes to School is a national movement. Safe Routes to School activities are conducted by parents, teachers, school districts, departments of transportation and health departments.

Why Safe Routes to School?

Increases physical activity
Reduces traffic congestion
Improves air quality
Keeps kids safe

For more information on “Why Safe Routes to School” and the regional meeting, see the Greater Washington region Safe Routes to School network website. (link to special conference page)

Register now! \(link\)

