Notes

The We Are Still In pledge is an open letter signed multiple types of entities, including universities, businesses, non-profits, and governments declaring that signatories will continue to support climate action to meet the Paris Agreement.

The Mayor’s National Climate Action Agenda is an organization also known as Climate Mayors, commits members to working together to strengthen local efforts for reducing greenhouse gas emissions and to supporting efforts for binding federal and global-level policymaking.

The US Climate Alliance brings states together to reduce emissions 26%-28% from 2005 levels, in order to meet or exceed the targets of the federal Clean Power Plan.
