What is the TPB Community Leadership Institute (CLI)?

The CLI is an educational program that provides the tools for community leaders to “think regionally and act locally” when getting involved in transportation decision-making.

What do participants learn?

During the three workshops, participants learn about the transportation decision-making process at the state, regional, and local levels. CLI participants learn how to connect their local communities' interests with the entire Washington region's planning issues.

The CLI is facilitated by former TPB Chair Kathy Porter, a former member of the WMATA Board of Directors and former Mayor of Takoma Park, Maryland.

Who participates in the CLI?

Participants will reflect a comprehensive group representing the diversity of communities and interests across the region. The program is designed for people who are new to transportation and regional planning and have an interest in learning more about decision-making in the region.

How do I apply to participate?

Candidates should compose a brief Statement of Interest that includes: name, contact information (postal address, email, phone number), recent community leadership experience, reason for interest, how they heard about CLI and a 1-2 sentence bio (which will be shared with fellow members of the CLI class).

Statements of Interest should be submitted to Bryan Hayes at bhayes@mwcog.org by 11:59pm on Friday, March 22 to be considered.

Interested participants must commit to attending all three sessions of the April 2019 CLI.

Statements can also be completed online at: www.mwcog.org/cli
