Presidential Inauguration 2013

As the capital of the United States and seat of the federal government, the District of Columbia plays host every four years to the inauguration of the country's president and the related activities such as the inaugural parade, balls and galas and other festive events.

Through the DC Presidential Inaugural Committee (DC PIC) the Government of the District of Columbia provides logistical coordination and support for the inaugural activities, working in close coordination with its federal, regional and private sector partners to ensure seamless oversight and integrated management.

Statutory Authority

Mayor's Order 2012-123 Establishment of the District of Columbia Presidential Inaugural Committee.

- 36 USC § 502(a)(1) *Regulations and Licenses. “For each inaugural period, the Council of the District of Columbia shall ... prescribe reasonable regulations necessary to preserve public order and protect life, health, and property.”
- 36 USC § 503(a) *Permit for Use. “The Mayor of the District of Columbia may grant a similar permit to use public space under the Mayor’s jurisdiction.
- 36 USC § 503(b) *Reviewing Stands and Commercial Stands and Structures. “A reviewing stand or a stand or structure for sale of merchandise, food, or drink may be built on public grounds in the District of Columbia only if approved by the Inaugural Committee and by the Secretary or the Mayor, as appropriate.”
- 36 USC § 508 *Enforcement. “The Mayor of the District of Columbia ... shall enforce this chapter, take necessary precautions to protect the public, and ensure that the pavement of any street, sidewalk, avenue, or alley disturbed or damaged is restored to its prior condition.”
- 36 USC § 510(a)(1) *Authorization. “Necessary amounts are authorized to be appropriated ... to enable the Mayor of the District of Columbia to provide additional municipal services in the District of Columbia during the inaugural period”
