A Technical Assistance Panel (TAP) is a program where 10-12 senior-level real estate and land use experts work over a concentrated timeline to evaluate and provide market-based feedback on a local development or land use challenge. Depending on the issues being tackled, panelists may include developers, property owners/managers, investors, designers, planners, engineers, market and financial analysts, and public sector planners and officials. The panel takes place over a one-and-one-half day timeline, with a report of recommendations completed thereafter.
