

Know Your Community, Know Your Businesses: Accessing, Interpreting, and Visualizing Local Statistics from the Census Bureau

George Mason University School of Public Policy
Arlington, VA
September 25, 2012
8:30 am- 4:00 pm
$45

Learn how to access and interpret local data from the 2010 Census, American Community Survey, Economic Census, County Business Patterns and other Census programs. Discover ways this knowledge can help inform your organization's programming and planning. Participants will access and analyze data for their communities, use interactive maps, and learn how to integrate economic and demographic data.

This hands-on workshop is designed for local government planners, economic development professionals, community organizers, small businesses and others who need to understand their community's changing demographic and economic conditions.

To register or for more information go to cra.gmu.edu or email lsturte2@gmu.edu

Presented by the GMU Center for Regional Analysis and the U.S. Census Bureau

