Due to coordination of modeling between Virginia Dept. of Environmental Quality with other modeling centers in the Ozone Transport Region, there continue to be delays in attainment modeling for the Washington region. Final attainment modeling results are expected in mid-November. The modeling results will be included in the draft air quality plan that will be submitted to MWAQC for approval for public hearing in January. Public hearings will be held in March and final approval of the SIP is expected in April.

Results indicate that the TPB will be able to demonstrate conformity for both the 8-hour and PM_{2.5} requirement. The MWAQC Executive Committee approved a comment letter recommended by the Technical Advisory Committee and the letter was sent to TPB before the October 18 comment deadline.

Mr. King will review the comment letter and the expectations for future mobile budgets to be used in transportation conformity analyses.
