MESSAGE FROM THE CHAIRMAN

The Metropolitan Washington Council of Governments (COG) Annual Crime and Crime Control report is created by the COG Police Chiefs Committee on behalf of the COG Board of Directors. This report provides the National Capital Region's (NCR) leadership and elected officials the ability to review and evaluate crime trends from a regional perspective.

Authored by the Police Investigative Commanders Subcommittee, the report collects crime statistics from the 24 primary COG jurisdictions, as well as neighboring jurisdictions and from federal law enforcement agencies. The beginning of the report illustrates the 2019 crime statistics and compares the offenses and arrests against the prior five years of data. The second section of the report highlights the COG Police Subcommittees' work and the regional initiatives combatting crime in the region.

I am honored to chair the Police Chiefs Committee, I am excited for the law enforcement initiatives being implemented regionally, and I look forward in the continued success in making the NCR a safer and more secure region.

David Huchler, Police Chief, Metropolitan Washington Airports Authority
Department Chair, COG Police Chief Committee

INTRODUCTION

The Metropolitan Washington Council of Governments' (COG) Annual Report on Crime and Crime Control is based on crime statistics reported by the 24 COG jurisdictions. The crime report also includes statistics from neighboring jurisdictions and federal law enforcement agencies to highlight the trends throughout the region. This annual report, compiled by COG's Police Chiefs Committee, begins by focusing on Part I/Part A Offenses as defined by the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) primarily collected using the following reporting methods:

- Uniform Crime Reporting (UCR) Program, and
- National Incident Based Reporting System (NIBRS)

COG disseminated a data collection instrument requesting information from the region's law enforcement agencies. Each agency determines its own reporting method. COG compiled the data, regardless of reporting method, and presents in this report crime trends over five years to provide a clearer picture of crime in the NCR. In order to gain a more comprehensive understanding of crime trends in the region, additional factors such as the economy, social stressors, legislative changes, and/or changes in police policies and resources should be taken into consideration. This additional analysis is not included in this report.

PART I/PART A OFFENSES

For the sixth year in a row, the NCR saw a decline in the total number of Part I/Part A Offenses. The decline of 1.1 percent in 2019, on top of the 11 percent decline in 2018, is a positive trend for the region's total number of offenses. Figure 1 demonstrates this positive trend, with an overall decrease of 1,067 reported offenses between 2018 and 2019 in the NCR. ¹

Table 1 below illustrates the breakdown of Part I/Part A Offenses for each of the 24 COG jurisdictions, as well as the crimes committed per 1,000 people. Table 2 illustrates the breakdown of offenses for the associate members, including neighboring jurisdictions and federal agencies.

CRIME TRENDS IN THE NATIONAL CAPITAL REGION

Crime trends in the National Capital Region (NCR) are calculated by adding the total number of historical property crimes and violent crimes, and then compares the total against the previous five years. Even with an increase in the overall calls for service in 2019 from the previous year, the COG region continues to show an overall decline in crime on a five-year perspective. There was a 0.7 percent decrease in 2019. Property crime includes offenses of burglary, larceny, and motor vehicle theft. Figure 2 shows the historical property crime trends from 2015 to 2019 in the NCR.

Regionally, violent crime dropped 0.5 percent in 2019, however, some jurisdictions witnessed specific increases in homicide and rape offenses. Law enforcement agencies have continued to work with each community to enhance trust and open communication between the police and the community. Figure 3 shows the historical violent crime trends from 2015-2019 in the NCR.

Crime Rate Per Capita

The region's population dropped slightly in 2019 to just under 6 million and the crime rate per capita stayed nearly same between 2018 to 2019. The 2019 crime rate per capita was 16.3 per 1,000. Crime rate per capita is a commonly accepted measure of crime and often serves as a basic indicator of overall crime trends. In addition to the overall crime trends, each jurisdiction closely monitors their own crime patterns, and uses an assortment of policing, training, and specialized law enforcement to address current trends. Figure 4 illustrates the decrease in the crime rate per capita from 2015-2019. The green line in the figure represents the population growth over the last five years.

Calls for service and staffing levels should be included when evaluating crime rate per capita. Calls for service numbers may not include officer-initiated calls and may only reflect dispatched calls.

Table 5 provides a breakdown of the total calls for service in each COG jurisdiction and associate member jurisdictions, as well as the staffing levels for sworn and civilian personnel.

REGIONAL LAW ENFORCEMENT INITIATIVES

Greater Prince William County Area/U.S. Attorney’s Office for the Eastern District of Virginia - Project Safe Neighborhoods Partnership

During 2019, the U.S. Attorney for the Eastern District of Virginia, Manassas Police Department, Manassas Park Police Department, Prince William County Police Department, federal law enforcement partners (including the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms, and Explosives, and Federal Bureau of Investigations), state and local probation offices, and many community stakeholders have worked together to combat violent gang criminals in the greater Prince William County area. Under this nationwide US Department of Justice sponsored program, these partner groups have come together to bring focus on communities seeing an abundance of violent crimes carried out by criminal gang organizations on distinct geographical communities. Under this three-part program, many stakeholder groups have convened to target and prioritize enforcement strategies on violent offenders, implement newly focused prevention strategies, and hold accountable convicted criminals through monitored probation and parole programs through local and federal court proceedings.

Project Safe Neighborhoods (PSN) has brought equal attention and resources to identifying those individuals and criminal organizations who commit violent crimes against our community. Once identified and processed into the criminal justice system, the team is providing new and details place based prevention strategies to the affected neighborhoods targeted by these violent criminals. Finally, the program brings close monitoring of arrestees during pre-trial programs, incarceration and later during probation and parole periods after criminal conviction. The program’s effectiveness depends upon the ongoing coordination, cooperation, and partnerships of local, state, and federal law enforcement agencies—and the communities they serve—engaged in a unified approach led by the U.S. Attorney in each federal district. PSN provides the critical funding, resources, and training for law enforcement, prosecutors, and their PSN teams to combat violent crime and make their communities safer through a comprehensive approach that marries targeted law enforcement efforts with community engagement, prevention, and reentry efforts.

The greater Prince William County Project Safe Neighborhoods Team approach continues to provide for the overall safety and wellbeing of our community, while holding accountable those individuals who commit violence towards innocent victims.

Partnerships and Grant Funds Help Solve Gang-Related Homicide

On the evening of June 27, 2019, officers of the Frederick Police Department (FPD) responded to a double shooting in an apartment complex parking lot. One of the victims, Gregory Knight, was dead at the scene. A second victim survived but was not able to give investigators any useful information about the perpetrator. Detectives learned that Mr. Knight had been an informant in a 2017 drug case and was set to appear as a witness in court against the defendant, Lavonte Nash. As detectives developed some evidence pointing to Mr. Nash as the shooter, a meeting with the Frederick County State's Attorney's Office spearheaded the creation of an all-encompassing Title III investigation into crimes believed to be perpetrated by Mr. Nash and other members of a drug trafficking organization. Mr. Nash is alleged to be a member of "PA-32," a criminal gang and drug-trafficking organization based in the City of Frederick. Investigators obtained authorization from the Circuit Court for Frederick County to intercept communications over Mr. Nash's telephone lines.

On August 31 and September 8, 2019, detectives investigated two gang-related shootings on North Market Street in downtown Frederick. Luckily, there were no fatalities, but at least five suspects perpetrated the two shooting incidents, and at least five persons were struck by gunfire. Detectives working on the Title III developed evidence to show that Mr. Nash, other members of the DTO, as well as rival gang members were responsible for the gun violence. In late September, as a result of the Title III investigation, FPD and partner agencies executed seven search and seizure warrants in Frederick and Hagerstown. Detectives arrested six individuals, including Mr. Nash, and seized a handgun connected with a recent shooting, ammunition, body armor, crack cocaine, prescription pills, marijuana and paraphernalia. Mr. Nash is held at the Frederick County Detention Center pending trial.

On January 24, 2020, the Frederick Grand Jury returned a fifty-count indictment against Mr. Nash. He is accused of committing First Degree Murder, Attempted First Degree Murder, Retaliation Against a Witness, Use of a Firearm in a Crime of Violence, Illegal Possession of a Regulated Firearm, First Degree Assault, Conspiracy, Distribution of Narcotics, Possession With the Intent to Distribute Narcotics, and Participation in a Criminal Gang. These charges involve Mr. Nash's premeditated murder of Gregory Knight on June 27, 2019, the attempted murder of the second individual shot during that incident, and his role in the two gang-related shootings on Market Street.

Frederick Police Cruiser (William Jones/Flickr)

The investigation was truly a multi-agency effort, with vital support provided by members of the Frederick HIDTA Group (High Intensity Drug Trafficking Area) to include the Frederick County Sheriff's Office Narcotics Investigation Section, Homeland Security Investigations, the Maryland State Police, and the Brunswick Police Department. Additionally, the investigation operated under the Maryland Criminal Intelligence Network (MCIN), which funded a portion of the operational expenses.

The Governor's Office of Crime Control and Prevention provides grant funding and strategic support to MCIN member sites to identify, disrupt and dismantle criminal organizations through inter-agency collaboration and data sharing to make Maryland safer.

CONCLUSION

The national capital region (NCR) continues to see a decline in overall crime. Part I/Part A Offenses have decreased by 1.6 percent with declines in both property crime and violent crime offenses. The five-year perspective of crime illustrates how the successfully implemented law enforcement programs are creating safer communities in the NCR. Improvements can continue to be attributed to the commitment to regionalism by the Homeland Security Executive Committee (HSEC) and the law enforcement agencies' dedication to training, information sharing, and use of innovative crime prevention strategies.

These regional initiatives, like the Project Safe Neighborhood, are forward leaning crime detection and prevention projects, leveraging regional partnerships to elevate the NCR's crime control ability. With diverse resourcing to include Urban Area Security Initiative grant funds and regional public safety funding, the Police Chiefs Committee will continue to sponsor new initiatives that close the gap in crime and terrorism activity in the region.

By building relationships, exchanging information, and engaging in law enforcement programs across the COG region, the Police Chiefs Committee directs their various technical subcommittees to work on regional law enforcement issues. For 2020, the COG Police Chiefs Committee and subcommittees are working in the following focus areas: (1) intelligence, information sharing, and situational assessment; (2) operational coordination; (3) civil disturbance preparedness; and (4) gang activity. From strategic to tactical levels, the region's Police Committees regularly meet to discuss innovative techniques and best practices in the implementation of these focus areas in the NCR.

The COG Police Chiefs Committee, representing the law enforcement agencies across the NCR, are committed to collaborating and identify new ways to ensure that the region remains a safe and secure place to live and work.
