Notes

The We Are Still In pledge is an open letter signed by multiple types of entities, including universities, businesses, non-profits, and governments declaring that signatories will continue to support climate action to meet the Paris Agreement.

The Mayors National Climate Action Agenda, aka Climate Mayors, is a network of mayors that work together to strengthen local efforts for reducing greenhouse gas emissions and support binding federal and global-level policymaking.

The US Climate Alliance brings states together to reduce emissions 26%-28% from 2005 levels to meet or exceed the targets of the federal Clean Power Plan.

National League of Cities wrote a letter asking the President to protect the nation's environment through continued strong national leadership and commitment to the Paris climate agreement.

The US Conference of Mayors passed a resolution supporting a transition to 100% renewable energy through the Mayors for 100% Clean Energy initiative.
