What is the TPB Community Leadership Institute (CLI)?

The CLI is an educational program that provides the tools for community leaders to “think regionally and act locally” when making decisions about transportation planning.

What do participants learn?

Over the course of three interrelated workshops, participants learn how, where, and when transportation decisions are made in the Washington region. The CLI includes information about the various planning processes at the state, regional, and local levels. CLI participants learn to be regional transportation leaders by connecting the interests of their local communities, constituencies, and elected officials with the planning issues facing the entire Washington region. By reviewing case studies and participating in interactive group activities, participants also learn about the relationship between land use, jobs, housing, and transportation, and the implications of growth in our region.

The CLI is facilitated by former TPB Chair Kathy Porter, who currently serves on the WMATA Board of Directors and previously served as Mayor of Takoma Park, Maryland.

Who participates in the CLI?

The TPB is committed to investing in the knowledge of community leaders across the National Capital Region. Participants are a comprehensive group representing the diversity of communities and interests across the region.

How do I apply to participate?

Candidates should compose a brief Statement of Interest that includes: name, contact information (postal address, email, phone number), recent community leadership experience, reason for interest, how they heard about CLI and a 1-2 sentence bio (which will be shared with fellow members of the CLI class). Statements of Interest should be submitted to Bryan Hayes at bhayes@mwcog.org by midnight on Friday, October 24 to be considered. Applications can also be submitted online at:
