

U.S. Bicycle Route System Implementation Workshop
Monday, September 13 ● 1– 4 pm
Pro Walk Pro Bike Conference ● Chattanooga, Tennessee

Join us before the start of the Pro Walk Pro Bike Conference for a dynamic discussion on building U.S. Bicycle Routes.

There are a number of ways you can participate in building what will be the biggest bicycle route network in the world. Whether you are a transportation professional, work on local trails, promote urban mobility or have an interest in the health and well-being of our country, this workshop will bridge the gap for all interests.

Participants will discuss

- Benefits of the U.S. Bicycle Route System
- Building partnerships between state agencies and cycling/trail groups
- Route development and criteria
- Steps to get started or participate in implementation
- How to gain buy-in from local communities, transportation agencies, and natural and recreational resource managers.
- Collaboration across state lines

This workshop will be packed full of resources that will benefit all levels of interest. Feedback from the workshop will be incorporated into the Pro Walk Pro Bike Panel Session during the conference.

Workshop Hosted By: Ginny Sullivan, Adventure Cycling Association; Eric Weis, East Coast Greenway Alliance, Mary Anne Koos, Florida DOT; Byron Rushing, Georgia DOT; Tom Huber, Wisconsin DOT; and Josh DeBruyn, Michigan DOT

Contact Ginny Sullivan at gsullivan@adventurecycling.org. 800-755-2453 x229

Learn more about the U.S. Bicycle Route System at www.adventurecycling.org/usbrs.