

InfraGardNCR presents the 2016
National Critical Infrastructure Security & Resilience Month (NCISRM)
Partnership Program

November 16th from 9:30am – 6:00pm

Capital One | 1680 Capital One Drive | McLean, VA

InfraGardNCR and our critical infrastructure partners invite you to join us to raise awareness about critical infrastructure protection and improve our security posture. The mission of NCISRM is to bring critical infrastructure stakeholders from the public and private sectors together to share best practices to prevent and mitigate the consequences of a major attack on the nation’s critical infrastructure.

Led by Kristina Tanasichuk, President, InfraGardNCR and President & CEO, Government Technology & Services Coalition (GTSC), this year’s NCISRM event will provide four things:

- 1) Critical infrastructure perspectives from the FBI and ODNI;
Jerry Roberts, Special Agent in Charge, FBI Washington Field Office and Deputy Director, National Counterintelligence & Security Center
- 2) The Ukraine Attack: what if it happened in the US?
Marc Sachs, Senior Vice President & Chief Security Officer, NERC
- 3) Scenario-based breakout to discuss best practices for “left and right of boom;”
Facilitators: Martin Kessler, The AES Corporation and Bill Lawrence, Electricity ISAC
- 4) Closing keynote panel
Bob Kolasky, Deputy Assistant Secretary, DHS, NPPD, Infrastructure Protection
Marc Sachs, Senior Vice President & Chief Security Officer, NERC
Devon Streit, Deputy Assistant Secretary, Infrastructure Security & Energy Restoration, DOE
