Please join the Urban Institute and the Capital Area Foreclosure Network for a conversation on the latest foreclosure trends in the National Capital Region and resources to help struggling homeowners. This event will feature a presentation of the most recent data and research on foreclosure with a discussion of implications for the Washington, D.C., region. It will also include a panel discussion highlighting best practices in foreclosure prevention outreach and an overview of tools available to help staff from government and nonprofits improve outcomes for homeowners throughout the region.
