BEEAC Committee Members

Local government members will highlight events, projects and programs. They will also address the following questions in preparation for the next agenda item discussion:

What energy, building or climate change-related policies does your jurisdiction have that directly targets or impacts Low and Moderate Income (LMI) communities?

What actions has your jurisdiction taken to implement the above policies (e.g. building or community-wide projects and community engagement practices)?

What metrics are used to measure benefits or progress?

What challenges are presented in local or state policies and practices that make it difficult to promote energy (and climate) equity in LMI communities?

10:45 A.M. 5. THE NEXUS BETWEEN ENERGY EFFICIENCY, PUBLIC POLICY, AND INVESTMENT IMPACT ON LMI COMMUNITIES

(Linkage to 2019 BEEAC Priorities: Energy Efficiency)

(Linkage to 2017-2020 Climate Action Plan: Table 2: Local Actions to Reduce Energy Consumption, Table 3: Local Action to Increase Share of Renewables, Table 8: Local Action to Protect Equity and Health)

Hear about state and local-level policies and programs that are driving equity in energy in the region. Learn about the City of Boulder's innovative program, SmartRegs, initiated out of the city's climate action plan requiring rental property owners to meet minimum efficiency standards in their buildings before getting a rental license.

- Dean Fisher, Maryland Energy Administration
- Emil King, District Department of the Environment
- Elizabeth Vasatka, City of Boulder, CO
